Snow Mountain Project Is Dropped

COMMISSION IS CONSIDERING A NEW PROPOSITION

Richmond's Municipal Water commission at its meeting last night dismissed all possibilities of this city being supplied by the Snow mountain project with the statement that "it was too gigantic an undertaking for one city." The dismissal of the Snow mountain project follows a trip made to the water source in the Mendocino county mountains.

At the time the trip was taken the commissioners were of the opinion that Albany, Berkeley and perhaps Oakland could be interested in the project. Richmond's representatives were the only ones to make the trip.

City Attorney D. J. Hall informed the commission that Mayor Irving in a conference yesterday informed him that Berkeley did not care for the Snow Mountain supply.

The commission is considering a new project which they will bring before the public in a few weeks.

WILL APPOINT COMMITTEE TO INSPECT BOTH NAVAL SITES

"Secretary Daniels told me that he would appoint a committee in December to look into the two propositions."

This statement, one of the telegrams sent by John H. Nicholl from Washington to the Richmond Industrial commission is one of great importance to Richmond. The two propositions mentioned are the naval base and the naval academy sites offered by this city.

Naming of a naval committee or board to inspect these sites and any others that may be offered on this bay was the first thing desired in the campaign launched to obtain one or both of the federal establishments for this city. The battle to have a committee named was started by Richmond, Berkeley and Oakland got into the fight also. Congressman Arthur Elston took it up energetically and visited the naval base site here in company with Rear Admiral Pond as guests of the Industrial commission the Berkeley chamber of commerce, Mayors Garrard and other local officials and Senator J. C. Owens.

Nicholl's work in Washington has evidently been of much benefit to this city. The naval board that will be named will visit this city and see the sites. There is no doubt about the merits of the locations offered. Congressman Elston has praised Nicholl for his work in getting the hearings he has and also for the beautiful booklet explaining the locations of the sites which was presented to all the congressmen and senators and officials in general. WILSON STUDIES GERMAN NOTE IN PRIVATE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—President Wilson carefully studied the text of Germany's reply today while Secretary of State Lansing went to Annapolis for a "vacation outing."

Official announcement was forthcoming from the White House, however, that a decision on the German note would not be rendered until early next week. The belief was growing that there will be no answer from this government, the United States taking the position that in the new order to submarine commanders, Germany has accepted and met the American viewpoint. Later developments, however, will determine whether diplomatic relations are to be continued.

Nearly fifty years ago the Grand Army of the Republic in national convention assembled named May 30th as a day of mourning for the organization then just formed, and passed the order on to the soldiers of the Civil war to observe this day as long as one who served his country in that war remained to answer to the call.

PARABLES of TRAVEL

A traveler journeying in a lonesome way was set upon by a highwayman, who took his wallet, but the traveler only laughed. Then said the highwayman unto himself, "How is it that this man makes merry when I take away his money?" and he opened the wallet, and behold, it contained "A. B. A." Cheques. The robber was exceedingly wroth, for he saw that the Cheques were not countersigned and were of use only to the rightful owner, and he cast them at the traveler and departed. But the traveler went on his way in safety.

"A. B. A." Cheques, not countersigned, are of use only to the original owner, and if lost or stolen may be replaced. Hotels, railroads and merchants accept them, and 30,000 banks cash them.

COLLEGE EDUCATION POSSIBLE

Miss Violette Wilson, who recently left the University of California because she is convinced that "college training fails," claims further that the "whole American educational system needs overhauling." This idea is not so new as to be startling. Many people now recognize that economic and social conditions have changed a great deal and that our educational system has been hard put to it to keep up with the times. Our institutions of higher learning have been slow in adjusting themselves to the new situations and demands.

Nevertheless, our wide-a-wake leaders in educational circles and outside, realize the situation and are tackling the problems of our schools from kindergarten to college and university.

New ideas and theories are piercing the academic walls and are receiving thoughtful trial and consideration. Individual and class work, lecture and recitation methods, elective and required courses, specialization and a "broad, general course" are all being prized and blamed and experimented with.

Then, too, it is recognized that college life as well as college education has become woefully complex. "Outside activities" have run away with the undergraduate and raised many a doubt as to the purpose of a college course. How much of the tuition does to acquiring "learning" and how much to practice in managing your fellow men has become a problem. And should a college education be hampered by the prospect of bread-winning in the future?

It is all very confusing and very trying for the student. But it is also hopeful of an eventual adjustment.

In the meanwhile, the college need not be deserted. The student really seeking an education can't be utterly deprived of it. The handicap of a college education can be overcome by the determined seeker after truth even under our present faulty system.

WOMEN AND THE LAW

Forty women received certificates at New York university the other night upon the completion of the work of the "Woman's Law Class." This does not mean that these forty women are now lawyers or expect to be. They are business women who felt the need of some sort of general knowledge of law and legal forms and observances in the conduct of their own business affairs.

The class is given by two women lawyers under the auspices of the Woman's Legal Education society and is designed to give business women a knowledge of business law.

This a move that might well be emulated in any city, town or village the country over. No longer do doctors hold their knowledge as esoteric. They come out in public with lectures, newspaper courses and magazine articles on subjects of hygiene and preventive medicine, aimed not so much to cure disease as to keep people well. This also the lawyers may well do. And women particularly need this sort of preventive legal knowledge. Nor is its usefulness confined to business women. Every woman needs to know what are her normal rights and responsibilities under the law of her state and country. She needs to know about simple mortgages and notes and land transactions, how to draw her will, how to protect her children.

The formation of women's law classes is a matter which might well attract the attention of women's clubs.

"NO, THANK YOU" LEAGUE

The remarkable success that the "No Thank You" league has met wit, in the first sixty days of its existence, shows conclusively that the people are eager to embrace any common-sense idea that has for its purpose the elimination of excessive drinking of alcoholic liquors.

With very little effect, except such publicity as the press have given it, the Sacramento league now has a membership of nearly 5000; with fifteen hundred leaguers outside of Sacramento in forty counties of California, and membership in twenty states. Its membership roster shows all classes and occupations of people who have signed the commitment: "Not to take an intoxicating drink in a saloon at another's invitation or expense."

Like every cause that makes for the betterment of the people and the uplift of the social morals of the community, it has its scoffers; chiefly among those who, directly or indirectly, are effected in a financial way, by a less consumption of liquor, or among that class who are so intolerant in their views on the liquor question that they decry anything short of absolute prohibition.

Already the league has made aggressive inroads upon the pernicious treating custom. Its plan works admirably. Its pledge is open at one end which permits the member, if he chooses, to treat another; but requires him to refuse the come-back drink. It would be difficult for the movement to sustain itself if it were a hard and fast pledge not to treat or to be treated; likewise an anti-treating law would not be practicable. There is too much of the mule in the man. He will resist any threatenings of punishment for continuing to do, that which in itself is not considered a crime, or which does not involve, in the slightest degree, moral turpitude.

The "No Thank You" movement is neither the advocate of saloons nor the exponent of prohibition; it is the one successful rational method, wherein the drinkers by co-operation reform themselves. This could not be done by law or regulation. It should have the applause and approval of the man who does not drink, because it tends to decrease the consumption of alcoholic liquors among those who do drink. And last but not least, and above all others, if "No Thank Youism," can be gronnded firmly enough into the habits of young men, starting in life, it will make for their future, that success that obtains from industrious effort coupled with sobriety.

"No Thank You" leagues should be started in every community in California. Persons interested should address the league's headquarters 1008 Fourth street, Sacramento, Cal., for any further information.

Having entered Mexico for good and sufficient reasons, multiplied a thousand fold, we should not hesitate to get out—when we get good and ready.

RAILROAD MAN ACCEPTS JOB IN ISLANDS

Assistant General Freight Agent J. K. Butler of the Southern Pacific company has resigned that office and on June 14th will leave for Honolulu, there to become traffic manager for the Oahu Railway and Land company. The Oahu railroad handles the bulk of the sugar and pineapple shipments of the Hawaiian Islands. Butler entered the service of the Southern Pacific thirteen years ago as statistical clerk in the freight department and rose rapidly. In 1909 he was placed in charge of a special bureau of the freight department to handle cases before the interstate commerce commission and the state railroad commission and his further advancement followed his work as an expert railroad witness in the intermountain rate case. He has long been an active member of the Transportation Club of San Francisco and his promotion, while regrettable in railway circles because of taking him from California, is gratifying to his friends.

DRINK WATER TO AVOID SICKNESS SAYS AUTHORITY

Glass of hot water before breakfast daily keeps the doctor away.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of use who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

NOTES FROM THE PLAYHOUSES

ORPHEUM THEATRE (Oakland)

This is not a fairy tale. It is the true story of how Ruth St. Dennis, who is to appear at the Oakland Orpheum the week of May 7th, became America's most representative dancer.

Once upon a time a young girl who lived in the state of New Jersey wanted to do something that counted in this wonderful world of our. She wasn't sure what it was she wanted to do but the germ of future genius burned in her breast. To find her bearings she decided to go into the chorus and see if she couldn't become a great actress via the chorus ranks. But this girl though still in the early teens was tall. At that time there were few places in any musical show into which she would "fit". The Show Girl had not come into her own. She secured an engagement, after great effort, but when the show closed she couldn't get another. Anyway besides her height she had individuality and the chorus girl of that day was not paid to stand out from the others by strength of personality. Her duty was to be as set a part of the scenery as the canvas itself.

This ambitious and not to be daunted young girl had learned one thing about the American public during her brief stage career. It wanted something new, something different. But what was there new under the sun! During the days she walked from one theatrical manager's office to another only to be told there was no work for her, Ruth St. Denis determined to discover something new.

After a very discouraging day while standing in front of a store waiting for a car her gaze centered upon a window full of cigarette boxes. On the cover of the particular cigarettes being displayed was a picture of an Egyptian woman, evidently an Egyptian dancer. No sooner did the Egyptian make her impression on the consciousness of the gazer than she had formed a plan to become an American dancer of the Egyptian and Oriental dances. With Miss St. Denis thinking, means acting, when she arrived home that night she had arms full of books on the history of Egypt and its art. Then began months of confining study of practicing, of visits to the galeries until she was ready to make her bow in the "something new" which she felt sure America wanted. But wasn't willing to accept the American as a novelty. They would have none of her. The rich man's entrance to the land beyond the gates guarded by St. Peter looked like mere play compared to the forcing of American sentiment.

But Miss St. Denis comes from the stock which fights best when on its back. She vowed that not only would America see her, but they would appreciate and like her. Later she went to London and via London made her debut in New York. That was ten years ago.

The rest of the history we all know. She was highly praised by the critics though only a small portion of America knew enough about the dance to appreciate her. But year by year her following has increased, her popularity grown and her technique as well, until at last she is one of the biggest draws in vaudeville. America owes much to its appreciation of the dance to Miss St. Denis who taught them despite themselves.

PANTAGES THEATRE (Oakland)

Little Lord Roberts, tiniest of midget comedians and one of the most remarkable theatrical features in the entire world, will be hose to Oakland children and their parents Saturday, when, after the matinee at the Pantages, he will receive the little ones on the stage.

Lord Roberts is the smallest comedian in the world, he is just two feet high, but one of the cleverest actors on the stage. His appearance this week at the Pantages has been one of the big triumphs of the history of the house. He is one of the most expensive acts in vaudeville today.

Lord Roberts is 22 years old, besides being an actor he is a traveling salesman, carrying a line of women's wear for the Levett Frank company of New York. He sold Capwell's a large bill while playing at the Pantages.

Immediately after the matinee little Lord Roberts will invite the children and their parents to the stage. He will answer questions, tell the story of his life and otherwise entertain them, besides showing them how the stage looks from "behind the scenes."

There are several big hits on this week's bill. Volant, of the flying piano, offers a unique illusion, in which a Grand piano flies like a bird. Nan Gray, the Scotch singer, is one of the hits of the bill, and the Harmony trio have "stopped the show" several times this week. The

AT THE REGENT THEATRE TONIGHT

"Love's Crucible," starring Frances Nelson will be shown at the Regent theater tonight. This is one of the new Brady-Made World Film Corporation releases. Two complete performances. First at 7 p. m.; second at 9 p. m.

The most popular of all western photoplays, "The Eagle's Nest," by Edwin Arden, is the principal feature at the Regent theater tomorrow. This famous film has probably had the longest and most successful run of any picture thrown on the screen, and has been shown oftener to the same audiences than any other set of reels made. Experts all agree that "The Eagle's Nest" is the ideal photoplay in that it combines a fascinating love story, an abundance of wild, exciting western realism and the most beautiful scenery that has ever been worked into a motion-picture drama. These films were made in the heart of the "Rockies," the principal action taken place midst the gorgeous peaks and canyons of the Great Divide and "The Garden of the Gods." No painted scenery was used the setting being the Colorado Rockies at the season when the foliage is said to be without a rival in any quarter of the world.

Other pictures will complete an interesting program. Continuous performance 2 to 11 p. m. Admission afternoon and night 5¢ and 10¢.

S. F. AND O. T. CO. PLANS $54,000 EQUIPMENT

The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways has filed with the railroad commission an application for authority to issue promissory notes for $180,000, in denominations of $1000 and $500 each, at 6 per cent, callable at 100½ and interest, on sixty days' notice, and maturing between 1917 and 1925. The company expects to use the money from these notes with $54,000 more or car equipment, consisting of twenty steel cars costing $6000 each, of the pay-as-you-enter type, and twelve cars costing $9500 each for an express service between Oakland and Berkeley over portions of the Traction division and the Key division, and in its Key division on Twelfth street and elsewhere. These cars will have bodies of steel with center entrances and pay-as-you-enter features.

Contracts for the purchase of the first twenty cars have not been made, but are being negotiated for. The twelve cars last mentioned will either be built in the Oakland shops of the railways, or bought elsewhere. Preliminary estimates show that the cars can be constructed in the Oakland shops for $9500 each.

Arrangements have been completed for the sale and disposition of the notes at par, with accrued interest. The company says that the equipment is urgently needed to maintain its service at a high standard of efficiency and safety.

The notes are to be secured by a car trust agreement whereby a trustee will hold the title of the cars and equipment for the benefit of the holders of notes. The $54,000 needed above the $180,000 to be secured from the notes, will be gotten by the payment by the company to its trustees under the car trust agreement of $200 a day, beginning May 1, 1916, and continuing until fully paid. Of the notes $10,000 will be due May 1, 1917, and $10,000 November 1, 1917. Similar sums will be due at the same dates in succeeding years until 1925.

The notes have been subscribed for in the sum of $30,000 each by the Oakland Bank of Savings, the Central National Bank of Oakland, the Anglo-California Trust company, the Savings Union Bank and Trust company, the German Savings and Loan Society, and the First National Bank of Oakland.

"Dream Pirates" is the spectacular feature.

Rosie Lloyd, charming sister of Alice and Marie Lloyd, and the "baby" of the famous family, comes next week with a big bill headed by Paul Pereira, former court musician to former King Manuel of Portugal. She is declared, even by her two older sisters, to be the cleverest artist in the family, and has scored one of the biggest hits in the United States this season. Paul Pereira is famous as musician and composer. He and his court orchestra are the big musical event of the Pantages season.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Richmond People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Richmond people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. E. E. Klein, 1812 Nevin Ave., Richmond, says: "Some time ago I felt that my condition needed attention. I felt weak and the least work wore me out. My kidneys were in bad shape and I often had attacks of backache. I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they made a complete cure. I no longer feel nervous or run down."

Price 50¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Klein had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. advt

FISHERMEN ABIDING BETTER BY LAWS

According to George Neale, of the state fish and game commission, anglers generally are showing more of a tendency this season to abide by the law and co-operate with the department than ever before.

Despite the fact that several extra deputies were appointed by the commission before the opening of the trout and bass season May 1st to prevent violations Neals says that no arrests have been reported. On the contrary, all trout fishermen have been found to be equipped with licenses and otherwise are showing a desire to conform with the law generally, according to the deputies.

Neale says that there also has been an increase in the sale of fishing licenses. He even estimates that the proportion is greater than in the sale of hunting licenses.

RIPE OLIVE DAY IS BASIS FOR WITTY EDITORIAL

The promotion of a national celebration like California ripe olive day is not without its humor.

This day, which will be observed on May 16th of this year, won national recognition a year ago. The press throughout the nation generally called attention to the day and urged upon the people the merits of the California ripe olive as a nutritious and delicious food product.

The following very clever editorial which appeared on March 27th in the Chicago Evening Post, however, gave another viewpoint on this celebration:

"As nearly as we can figure it out, the life of Illinois will be one long round of obeisance to Pacific coast fruits and vegetables, unless Illinois looks out.

"California a few years ago began to ask us to celebrate 'Raisin Day' with her. As it seemed to mean only the distribution of California raisins by our grocers, we did not offer objection.

"Then she added 'Orange Day,' which we also accepted good-naturedly enough. Now comes 'Ripe Olive Day.'"

"If we are to devote our days to singing the glories of the vegetable world, why do it exclusively for California? Why not give Illinois a look-in?

"Illinois is the great corn-growing state of the Union, and she has 'Dick' Ogilesby's famous speech about 'The Corn, the yellow corn,' to celebrate its glory.

"Let's have a 'Corn Day.'

"And let's see how enthusiastically California will celebrate it."

GRIPPE EPIDEMIC SPREADING RAPIDLY

DRS. CHAN AND KONG SHOW THE WAY TO HEALTH.

Within the last few weeks an epidemic of la grippe has spread with alarming rapidity throughout the United States. The grippe has long been regarded as a subject for jest, and it is only recently that the real seriousness of the illness has been made known to the public. Prominent among the leading physicians of the country who are waging an instructive campaign for the prevention and cure of la grippe is Dr. Chan of the firm of Chan & Kong, famous Chinese Herb Doctors. When interviewed, Dr. Chan said: "Preparedness should be the keynote of the public in warding off la grippe. As the United States is now building up her army and navy to insure immunity against war, so should the great American public build up its health to forestall the ravages of disease such as la grippe. The only successful method, to my way of thinking, is to rely on Nature for a cure. Medicinal teas made from natural grown herbs will build up your system and enable you to successfully combat La Grippe. Why not turn, then, to the famous Shinese herb specialists, Drs. Chan and Kong—who are widely known as the most successful herbists?

"If you are a 'Doubting Thomas,' we refer you to our letter files, where you can examine hundreds of testimonials that express the undying gratitude of those who have despaired of human relief before being cured by Nature's herbs, administered by Drs. Chan and Kong.

"In order to educate the public to the correct way of combating la grippe, we offer one week's trial of our phenomenal teas at actual cost."

Drs. Chan and Kong offer you this in the knowledge that you will be convinced. Offices, 901 Clay street, Oakland. Consultation and pulse diagnosis free to all. Office hours: Sunday 9-12. Daily, 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.—Advertisement.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre to your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SPRINGTIME KILLING TIME FOR FLIES

One of the greatest advances made by modern sanitary science is the detection of insects as carriers of disease. The old airborne theory of transmitting disease is pretty well demolished now and we place the blame for infections on such tangible objects as flies, fleas, lice, bed-bugs, ticks and mosquitoes. The work of practical prevention is immensely simplified thereby, for the average citizen can see an insect and he has none of the superstitions dread of it that he shows toward unseen enemies. In former times, we would look on the occurrence of an epidemic as a visitation of the anger of the great gods and consider the only pious way of meeting it to be repentance, reform and offerings at the altars, but now we will swat the fly without pausing to ascertain whether the pesky creature is under the protection of Apollo or Minerva.

Now is the time to swat the fly. Every lady-fly carries about her the certainty of innumerable billions of other flies during the coming summer. Kill one musca now and many a muscular exertion later is saved, many a swear-word is rendered unnecessary and one's prospects for the hereafter are by that much brightened. Many a consoling moment of early morning or late afternoon slumber may be thus added to the sum total of a happy time.

Now is the time for the wife to clean house, before the surviving flies have wakened to activity. Brush out every dormant insect from the closets and the innumerable crevices that they take refuge in, and sweep them up and put them into the fire. Deposit all your garbage and slops in a tight garbage can with a tight fitting cover. Let nothing stand about that could feed a fly. Leave no water about or anything else that might satisfy the thirsty creature. Have one or two large fly traps in the yard. Catch the flies before they get into the house.

Now is the time, then, to begin the work of renovating your entire premises. Especially should careful attention be given to the winter's accumulation of ashes, rubbish and the many kinds of cast-off material and refuse that are allowed to accumulate during the winter months. It is a good plan, also, to clean up that basement, if you have one. And then, after this riding out process has been carefully performed, why not try a coat of whitewash to the basement and to the fences. In addition to being excellent from a sanitary standpoint, it makes everything clean and sweet and will make the basement lighter, brighter and a better basement than it was before. Lime is cheap; water is still cheaper, so that it costs almost nothing to apply whitewash to fences, walls, ceilings and other places where needed. Why not take your exercise with a rake and hoe and the whitewash brush?

CONSTANCE COLLIER IN "THE CODE OF MARTHA GRAY" SHOWING AT THE RICHMOND THEATER TONIGHT.

WRESTLER WILL APPEAR AT RICHMOND

The feature attraction on the vaudeville bill at the Richmond theater tomorrow will be Young Hackenschmist, brother of George Hackenschmist, the Russian Lion, champion wrestler of the world. Young Hackenschmist is not depending on his brother's reputation to pull him through but has an act that is unique in the world of vaudeville.

Hackenschmist challenges all comers on the mat and promises to lay them safely on their backs within a reasonable length of time. The act is one of the most highly entertaining that Richmond theatergoers have ever had the chance to witness.

Turner and Turner have a xylophone act that produces some good music along with a laugh or two. Dancing Davey, billed as "The Dancing Phiend" has some new steps. Al Weston, the fun maker is a dialect comedian of no mean ability. On the same bill comes a stirring motion picture, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird."

"The Code of Marcia Gray" comes to the Richmond theater tonight where it will complete its highly successful two day engagement.

The Starlight American comedy, "Gleeful Guardians" is one of the funniest things shown here recently. If you want a good laugh don't fail to witness this production. The Pathe News pictures tell of interesting current events.

While Constance Collier the distinguished European star plays a most impressive Marcia in "The Code of Marcia Gray" the individual talents of the entire company make this Morosco picture live with the excellence of their portraying.

Almost the entire cast have had the benefit of the experience of years in the legitimate. The cast includes besides Constance Collier, the well known Forrest Stanley, Henry DeVere, Herbert Standing, Howard Davies, and Helen Jerome Eddy.

The ruined financier Gray is played with power and great register of emotions by DeVere. Forrest Stanley makes a most pleasing and likable bachelor-lover, while genial Howard Davies carries the heavy desperate character of Crane with realistic skill. The dramatic value of this story is high society life with its heartlessness is superbly rendered.
